A group of Glades women opposed to the Lake Okechobee SWIM (Surface Water Improvement and Management) plan have given themselves a new name and are planning some future projects.

They met May 21 at the Drawbridge Cafe and agreed to call themselves the Ladies of the Lake USA. The USA stands for United to Save Agriculture.

News Briefs

GCCHS graduation is June 5 in gym

Ninety-nine students are scheduled to graduate Friday, June 5 at 7 p.m. from Glades Central Community High School.

The students will graduate in the gymnasium.

PHS to graduate June 6

Pahokee High School will graduate approximately 75 students on Saturday, June 6. The graduation ceremony will take place at 3 p.m. in the gymnasium.

Tri-Cities to host volleyball games

Officials and employees from the cities of Belle Glade, Pahokee and South Bay have challenged each other to a volleyball game this Saturday at the Belle Glade Marina.

Last year, the Tri-City League hosted a softball tournament and Belle Glade won first place, Pahokee second and South Bay third place.

Donation to watch the games is $3 and children are admitted free. Included in the fee is a free hot dog. Proceeds from the games will be used for recreational projects in the three cities.

Spokesman Jo Hatton said the group plans to air a television commercial during the legislative session in Tallahassee in June.

Mrs. Hatton said she got together with former Pahokee Mayor Clarke Hull Wilkinson on doing the commercial.

"Because I've worked with Clarke on so many projects that had no money, I called Clarke and we went out on a limb," said Mrs. Hatton.

"I told her I'd take in wash and she'd do dishes if we couldn't come up with the money," she said.

Mrs. Wilkinson assured the group she and Mrs. Hatton had worked really hard to get the money, which amounted to $6,680 for 130 30-second spots.

The commercial was shown to the group and they were told they would appear on NBC, ABC and the Fox network during the morning news, Good Morning America, the Today Show, the Nightly News and around Matlock and Hardcopy.

"We felt these would be good times to catch the legislators," said Mrs. Hatton.

The ad was produced by Robert Ray, a Public Relations man from Miami. The commercial shows that the SWIM plan to clean up nutrients from farm runoff would severely damage the sugar and vegetable industries in the Glades.

It is estimated by the group that about 20,000 jobs could be lost if the South Florida Water Management District implements the SWIM plan which calls for 58 square miles of farmland to be taken out of production to be used as a filtering system for nutrients.

The group is also planning to speak to civic groups in the county and update a brochure they have circulating.

The Ladies of the Lake, USA will hold another meeting May 28 in Clewiston at the Country Club beginning at 10 a.m. and continuing through lunch.

South Bay opens library

By Bill Phillips
Staff reporter

South Bay—The Clarence E. Anthony Branch of the Palm Beach County Library System had its official ribbon cutting ceremony on May 22.

More than a hundred area dignitaries attended the festivities.

County Commissioner Ken Foster said, "It's been a long time coming but here we are. Having grown up in South Bay it is a great pleasure to be here today and see the opening of South Bay's first public library."

He then introduced Mayor Clarence Anthony of South Bay. Mayor Anthony said, "This is not a memorial library. I am very much alive. This library represents an opportunity for children to expose themselves to materials and books that they would not have been able to read before."

Additionally, one of the key elements for a child to become a successful and productive citizen in society is to become educated. The City of South Bay and Palm Beach County Board of County Commission are providing our kids with one more tool that will help the youth and the community as a whole. The city has never had a library in its history and this facility represents a source of pride for the citizens of South Bay.

The Rosenwald Elementary Chorus lead by Rosalyn Pomerance sang a song written especially for the occasion entitled, "Give yourself a Pat on the Back."

Mayor Anthony said, "When I was growing up, I didn't have a chance to much traveling but I was able to travel throughout the world with the help of books. A library is for the kids!"

Speakers at the dedication ceremony included County Commissioner Chair Karen Marcus, Commissioner Ken Foster, South Bay Mayor Clarence E. Anthony, and Library Director Jerry W. Brownlee.

Mr. Brownlee said, "A library would be impossible without the people behind the scenes that made it tick and honored several people by name for ordering, opening, and labeling the books prior to being sent to the counties libraries."

A key to the city of South Bay was presented to Belle Glade's City Manager, Lotmax Harrell.

The Clarence E. Anthony Branch Library is 4,000 square feet and will serve as a neighborhood resource for the South Bay area. The library has:

- A Bahamian/Georgian facade.
- A children's collection and services area.
- A periodicals reading area with lounge seating.

• A basic reference collection.

• A meeting room for library programs and community use.

The architects for the project were from the Palm Beach County Architectural Division. The general contractor was Lutz Builders, Inc.

The library is located at 375 S.W. 2nd Avenue, South Bay. The public is encouraged to stop by get a library card and check out a book.

Mills fired as director, given new position

By Bill Phillips
Staff reporter

Pahokee—The Pahokee Housing Authority fired Randy Mills as executive director of the Authority but created a new position for him at the same time. In spite of recommendations from HUD's Jim Chaplin, the board fired Mills and hired him to run the Authority's separate administrative fund in the same resolution.

He will continue to receive his $38,000 per year salary and be provided an office on land not owned by HUD.

The only dissenting vote came from Commissioner Vera Hopson. Mrs. Hopson said she had not had time to read the resolution and absorb its contents prior to the meeting. "This is not the kind of decision that can be made in three hours," she said. "You gave me this information at 4 p.m. today and want a decision by 7 p.m. I will have to vote against keeping Mr. Mills in any capacity. It's crystal clear to me what HUD wants."

A fund that recently was reported at a housing authority meeting as having only $16,000 in operating funds has suddenly grown to a fund with $300,000 in assets.

"Jim Chaplin of HUD is no Hitler," and he can have my unsalaried job if he wants it. I don't give a _____!" said Commissioner Esther Boyd.

Mills said he was pleased with the vote of confidence given to him by the commission.

Creating a monster...Students at Rosenwald Elementary have been having fun with the Monster Mash theme recently by building a cardboard "monster" and participating in other events with the same theme centered around reading. The participants were given buttons which read "I'm a Reading Monster."

Rosenwald students are rewarded for reading books

Students at Rosenwald Elementary in South Bay have been sporting buttons that say "I'm a Reading Monster". The students have been participating in a reading program called "The Monster Mash". Reading centers were set up throughout the Media Center and children obtained pledges for the number of books they could read.

Annie Russell, Media Specialist said the money from the pledges will be used to purchase additional books for the new media center, which has been open for about three months and is only about two-thirds full of books.

"We're trying to stimulate an interest in reading," said Ms. Russell, who added that she is very excited about the new Clarence E. Anthony Library that has just opened in South Bay. She said she has already gotten quite a few books for the students from the new library.

Jane Brown, Chairperson for the Reading Committee, said students who helped raise pledges were treated to a pizza party at Pizza Hut. Pizza Hut gave a discount to the school for the party.

U.S. Sugar expands phosphorus-reduction water pumping practices to second farm

United States Sugar Corporation announced today it has implemented pumping practices to reduce phosphorus from farm water runoff at a 3,800-acre vegetable and sugarcane farm.

The pumping practices, first introduced earlier this month at another U.S. Sugar farm, are part of a plan being carried out by farmers in the Everglades Agricultural Area (EAA) to revitalize the Everglades and Preserve jobs.

"We are moving quickly to expand these pumping practices to demonstrate that phosphorus in farm water runoff can be lowered without implementing the government's $400 million plan that will flood 58 square miles of farmland and eliminate thousands of jobs in South Florida," said J. Nelson Fairbanks, president of U.S. Sugar.

The Wetherald II farm grows lettuce on approximately 17 percent of the land, with the rest devoted to sugarcane. The water from the lettuce fields, which is higher in nutrients, will be retained on the fields during the summer rainy season when vegetables are not grown.

"This will help reduce the water's phosphorus content and help us meet the Best Management Practices (BMP) standards we've set," Fairbanks said.

The new pumping practice is the first of several on-farm techniques being implemented to reduce phosphorus loadings.

The company also has proposed using a system of Everglades Restoration Credits, modeled after the acid rain credits of the federal Clean Air Act, to help farmers meet phosphorus standards.

Farmers who could reduce phosphorus below the government's standard would be able to sell the credits to farmers who could not meet their goals.

The pumping practices and restoration credits are part of a plan presented by U.S. Sugar and the Florida Sugar Cane League to reduce up to 150 tons of phosphorus from water leaving the Everglades Agricultural Area. U.S. Sugar is implementing the plan while it is under study by the South Florida Water Management District.

"We are not going to wait for the government to act because there can be no delay to save the Everglades, no delay to save jobs and no delay to save money," Fairbanks said.

In March, the District passed an Everglades Surface Water Improvement and Management (SWIM) plan, to safeguard the quality of the water going to the Loxahatchee National Wildlife preserve and Everglades National Park.

According to the SWIM plan, 58 square miles of farmland would be turned into huge storm-water treatment areas.

The industry estimates this would result in the closing of two sugar mills and the elimination of thousands of jobs in South Florida related to farm activities.

Under the new practices, the timing and amount of water pumped from the canals during rainstorms will be managed to reduce stirring phosphorus-laden sediments at the bottom of the canals.

According to studies conducted for U.S. Sugar, the new pumping practices alone will reduce phosphorus runoff from the EAA by 58 tons per year.

Letter to the editor Baha'i to celebrate May 29

Dear Editor:

On May 29, the Baha'is of the Glades will join Baha'i communities worldwide in observing the centenary of the passing of Baha'u'llah, Prophet-Founder of the Baha' Faith.

The observance is the first major commemoration of a Baha'i holy year, which began April 21, 1992. The holy year is a special time for Baha'is to reflect upon the life and mission of Baha'u'llah, and the development of his religion.

Commemoration of the centenary of Baha'u'llah's passing will be held on May 29 at the Baha'i House of Worship in Wilmette, Illinois, at the six other continental Baha'i Houses of Worship in the world, and in thousands of local Baha'i communities. A special observance also will take place in the Holy Land at a gathering of 3,000 to 4,000 Baha'is near Akka, Israel, at the site of Baha'u'llah's tomb.

Brazil's Federal Chamber of Deputies, that country's national legislative body, will hold a "solemn session" on May 29 to mark the passing of Baha'u'llah. Representatives of the National Spiritual Assembly of the Baha'is of Brazil have been invited to participate in the session. Invitations also will be extended to foreign ambassadors.

Baha'u'llah died as an exile in Palestine to which he had been banished by the Sultan of the Ottoman Empire because of his religious teachings. He spent most of his forty years of exile in and around the Penitential prison city of Akka. The central principles of Baha'u'llah's teachings are the oneness of religion and oneness of humanity. His teachings also include the equality of men and women, the essential harmony of science and religion, economic justice based on spiritual principles, the urgent need for the elimination of all prejudice and a world federal system of government to sustain a lasting peace.

Baha'is believe Baha'u'llah is the promised one of all religions, and that he ushered in the age of fulfillment mentioned in religious prophecies of the past.

In less than 150 years, the Baha'i Faith has become the second most widely spread religion in the world after Christianity with almost 6 million members. In the last six years more than 1.5 million people have become Baha'is, mostly in Asia and Africa.

A La Sangre Hay Que Ir Para Que Se Seque la Llagla

De que al Artifice - de todas las iniquidades - que manda con sus secuaces en nuestra Patria. Inmolada, le quedan pocos clavos de donde agarrarse, y de que los que le quedan estan wictorio, es algo que percibimos, que fiote en nuestro subconsciente. Ya es hora de que lo realicemos, a plena conciencia. No basta con que lo percibamos por medio de los sentidos. Tenemos que analizarlo en forma objetiva, fria y ordenadamente, acorde con la logica.

Una manfana nos levantamos, tras haber tenido un mal suefio, o salimos a la calle y tropezamos con un pesimista de esos - ave de mal aguro - que reniega hasta de su sombra, o nos enteramos por la prensa de alguna noticia adversa, alli mismo se nos nubla el raciocinio, se nos caen las alas del espiritu y hasta que parece como si se nos encoge el cuerpo. Nada mas perdido a una vuela.

Nuestro afan por saber hasta cuando se mantendra el Verdugo agarrado al clavo ardiendo, es lo que desborda nuestra impaciencia y provoca nuestro desconcierto. Como tiene que ser, porque esa respuesta solo Dios la tiene. Cae dentro de lo imponderable. Deberia de servirnos de leccion el reciente descalabro del mundo comunista.

La fuerza matriz que alimentaba a la ergastula castrista ha desaparecido para siempre. Se estan sosteniendo, con el hambre bien administrada, acorde con los pocos recursos que les quedan. Mandi sabe hasta cuando habran de durarles; lo que sabemos es que la savia que hace posible la existencia, requiere un minimun de recursos materiales, tanto como espirituales. Es la Ley de la Supervivencia.

La gente - al igual que los perros de carrera que van desafortunadamente tras la liebre - necesitan correr detras de un ideal. (No pretendamos establecer comparaciones. Son tan nobles los perros)

Importa poco cual sea o como sea el ideal: generoso o mezquino, enaltecedor o degradante. Lo que se requiere es que, en esa gama de ideales, puedan los individuos que forman las distintas ramas sociales, volcar sus apetitos, disfrazados o no, de amor y de odio, de supersticion o religion, de vanidad y orgullo, de hipocresia, sumision o egoismo, de ENVIDIA. Si sabemos de eso, nosotros los cubanos.

Los periodos en que un ideal he brillado con mas intensa lumbrre son el resultado de la determinacion de un pueblo de aunar, en pos del mismo, toda su energia para conseguirlo.

Los periodos en que un ideal se ha oscurecido, hasta llegar a eclipsarse, son los que coinciden con las horas sombrias en que una sociedad se postre y desfallece.

Enarbolando los ideales de nuestros heroicos marabios, surgio una Nacion prospera que florecia, sobre las cenizas de una sangrienta y larga guerra, hasta ocupar su posiccion cimera en el orden espiritual, cultural y material, entre los pueblos de America.

Pero cuando nadie era capaz de imaginario, cuando se oponian a ello factores geograficos, etnicos, politicos y morales, el Imperio Comunista se la robo, valiendose de un Tirano endemoniado.

Todos los ideales le fueron manichados a ese pueblo. Todos menos uno: el ideal de ver al Tirano clavado en su ignominia, maldicido y escarnecido, coreado por el odio de todo un Pueblo.

Repitamos con Marti, el mas piadoso de todos los cubanos. "A la sangre hay que ir, para que se seque la llaga".

PHA better off with Mills

Concerning HUD Chief Jim Chaplin's refusal to allow Mr. Randall Mills to work for the Pahokee Housing Authority, let me offer an opinion as to why.

Back when Mr. Mills was the Executive Director of Pahokee Housing Authority, he managed to operate the Authority at a profit. He accomplished this even in an area which was termed a "depressed agricultural area."

No doubt this was difficult for HUD to understand, much less to explain. Apparently all HUD knew how to do was to dole out taxpayer money by the millions to help keep other Housing Authorities in the State in operation. In one of Mr. Mills' years as Executive Director of P.H.A., he sent HUD a check for over $32,000. The Housing Authority had made "too much" profit! After a period of months, P.H.A. had to call HUD and inquire as to not receiving the cancelled check. A secretary at HUD explained that they were not used to getting checks from Housing Authorities and they were still trying to decide where to deposit the check.

Since Mr. Mills left P.H.A., other Executive Directors have managed to run the Pahokee Housing Authority into the ground in a big way. The Authority is now hundreds of thousands of dollars in the "red". Status Quo, I suppose.

Now the Board of Directors of PHA has asked Mr. Mills to come back as Executive Director of Pahokee Housing Authority, confident that his experience and expertise will bring the PHA out of its current nose dive.

Board of Directors and the tenants are behind Mr. Mills almost 100 percent. So why is HUD trying so hard to get him out? Is HUD so afraid that Mr. Mills will succeed? No doubt questions will have to be answered if he does.

Questions such as, why did HUD sit back and watch as P.H.A. went from an operation making a very good profit to an operation hundreds of thousands of dollars in the red? And in such a short period of time!

Also, if a Housing Authority in a "depressed agricultural area can operate without taxpayer's money through HUD, then why can't the hundreds of other Housing Authorities, or at least some of them, do the same?

No, Mr. Mills, forget it. HUD apparently isn't about to let that can of worms be opened.

Signed,
A Concerned Citizen

Commissioners of PHA, step down now

As a black resident of the Pahokee Housing Authority, I am disgusted with the most recent actions of the Board of Commissioners and our Interim Director Julia Hale.

Who do they think they're kidding with their most recent actions?

To want to jeopardize our homes and future funding and defy what HUD is telling them. After all, it's not their money to spend as they please.

This may have been the way of the past, but no more. We stand the chance of losing our homes, and no one seems to care.

Why do they want Randall Mills so bad as the Director? Could it be that he will do what ever the Board instructs him to do, or could it be that the Board is not capable of running a decent public meeting according to the law?

Why is Jake Rose running the meetings? Isn't that your job Chairman Boyd?

And this special attorney they have hired, Jake Rose, he's a Personal Injury Attorney.

HUD is breathing down our necks, lawsuits have been filed, we have unhappy residents and employees, and at some point the money well will run dry.

I hope HUD does step in, at least then we might get some maintenance done on our units and maybe the PHA will be run by people who care.

A Fremd Village resident

Editor's note: This Speak Out was edited while hopefully retaining as much of the caller's message as possible. Thank you for Speaking Out.

Get the true story on Mr. Mills

I'm calling in reference to Mr. Mills and the Pahokee Housing Authority.

If you have kept up with this case for the last few years by reading only what the news media has printed, then you have to think Mr. Mills is guilty of stealing from the Housing Authority.

What the news media hasn't printed is that the State Attorney's office dropped all charges because they had no case.

Every time Mr. Mills was accused of stealing was properly recorded in the Housing Authority's books and had been approved by the Board of Directors as an advance on his retirement or his salary.

Independent auditors could find no evidence of wrongdoing. All they could say was the bookkeeping system in place at that time was questionable, but legal.

After all our so called legal system has put Mr. Mills through, I think the Mayor of Pahokee and the Board of Directors of the Housing Authority should stand firmly behind Mr. Mills.

They owe a moral obligation to him and also to the city. They owe it to the country. It will be a tough battle. HUD Chief Jim Chaplin will fight every step of the way to keep Mr. Mills out, for he knows very well the hot seat he will be on if Mr. Mills can turn Pahokee Housing Authority around. Thank you.

Watch out for Monica Ulhorn

As a concerned citizen and taxpayer...and whether your children are in public or private school, you should be aware and on watch as what Superintendent of Schools Monica Ulhorn's maneuvering, evidently with the school board's approval.

She is advertising for various administrative positions in the Wall Street Journal. She announced that fact nearly three weeks ago, while also announcing the impending dismissal of many local district employees.

While The Sun's circulation is not overwhelming, and the Lake towns often are forgotten step-children, this Speak Out caller hopes each caring adult notes what is being done to our school system in the name of a true budget crisis.

I ask where does Maryland and the Wall Street Journal fit in? Check the daily paper for updates and be wary.

Postscript: Veto year-around school. Who wants to teach or learn July 5th. Mr. Orr needs to go back to the classroom daily to learn what he advocates. Thank you.

PMSHS has been selected by the Italian Ministry of Education to participate in the Partners in Educational Cultural Exchanges Project (PEACE).

The name of our partner school is Ennio Quirino Visconti School and is located in Rome. The School has a total of 735 students, 305 girls and 430 boys. The students range in ages 15 to 17 years and are enrolled in many of the same required courses taught in Palm Beach County (including English).

According to Mr. D. Balzano, the coordinator of the PEACE project, the first correspondence from our partner school was entirely in Italian. Fortunately, Mr. Balzano's parish priest in Cleveland who was born in Venice spoke fluent Italian, translated the information. Recently, the school sent to the partner school a book of student poetry and writings, the school newspaper, student letters, a class picture, and a copy of all the course offerings at PHS.

The School Board of Palm Beach County, upon recommendation from the Palm Beach County Public Health Unit, approved on April 15, to reinstate a TB test as part of the required physical examination for school entry beginning the 1992-93 school year.

Therefore, students must now obtain a TB test as part of their school physical for grades kindergarten, nine, and or first time entry into the Florida School System. The PPD test is preferred since the reaction can be measured and is more accurate in its results; however, the time test will be acceptable. The test costs about $20 through a private physician, or it may be obtained at no cost from the local Public Health Department.

The Red Carpet School Award was presented to Mrs. G. Eugenia Jones, Principal at the Academic Honors Brunch held at PMSHS on May 1. The members of the faculty and staff are proud of this achievement and look forward to promoting Pahokee Middle Senior High School as a Red Carpet School.

'Busy taking orders last Friday at Dixie Fried Chicken in Pahokee ... (L-R) Assistant Manager Diane Usher, Manager Angela Delgado, Dixie Fried Owner, Claudio Caramma behind the counter. Regular customers, Bobby Elrod and Eddie Crosby are ready to eat. Mrs. Elrod says she eats at the restaurant every Sunday and usually comes in every day for a drink. Mr. Crosby said he eats there all the time because he gets excellent service and "besides I love the variety of foods the restaurant offers." Mrs. Elrod added, "My boss even has a sandwich named for him."

Dixie Fried to become chain

By Bill Phillips
Staff reporter

New owners of Dixie Fried Chicken see it becoming a new fast food chain in Florida.

Last January, Mr. Billy Bryant of Pahokee sold the Dixie Fried Chicken Franchises of Clewiston and Pahokee to Claudio and Santo Caramma. They are two of the oldest fast food restaurants in the Glades.

The Carammas have been in the restaurant business since the early 70's with Shakey's Pizza and in the 80's Pizza Hut. They also own a catering company that services all of the Glades and Eastern Palm Beach County.

"The Caramma brothers said, "We liked the concept of Dixie Fried Chicken, but customers of the 90's expect one restaurant where they can select from a variety of different foods, so we introduced our subs and a leaner cut burger. We also have assorted types of fish, barbecue pork, and of course our low cholesterol, low fat prepared chicken."

Claudio Caramma said, "We advertise weekly specials on our boards within the stores and with the newspaper coupons that make our food more affordable - to our customers. We are hoping to purchase and build new stores in the future. We can see this franchise growing from 10 to 20 more stores, and we can proudly say that they started right here in the Glades."

Claudio served with the Green Berets and as an instructor in the U.S. Army. So, when the Persian-Gulf war began to break out around January, it was nice to see the Pahokee and Belle Glade People rally for America.

"It brought a good feeling to me to see the Glades unite for the troops. I also heard that Pahokee was trying to form a parade in support of the troops, so I made over 2000 flyers and passed them out to my customers. I saw the warm response of the Pahokee and Belle Glade People. It was going to be quite a large march, so I took it one step further and gave free lemonade and iced tea to the marchers at the end of the parade. I have a lot of respect for the people of Belle Glade and Pahokee after seeing the way they supported the troops. It's good to see that pride is back in America," he said.

He resides with his wife and 4 children in Wellington. Santo has two children and resides in the Wellington area as well.

Brothers, born in Siracuse, Sicily, have come a long way in the restaurant business and have worked hard to get where they are.

About owning businesses in the Glades, Claudio said, "It's a pleasure being included as a Glades businessman. The people in the Glades are some of the finest I've ever had the pleasure of meeting."

Mr. Bryant said, "We have been in the Glades since 1969 and decided to open the Dixie Fried in Pahokee in 1984 after a successful operation in Clewiston opened in 1978. Mr. Bryant is still the owner of the franchise in Belle Glade."

Mr. Caramma says he looking forward for the Lake Trail to be completed which he feels will bring a lot of bicycle enthusiasts into our area. "I just hope they are hungry," he said.

IT REALLY DOESN'T BOTHER ME, YET.

There are two kinds of bothering. One is the kind you know about, and the other is the kind you don't. And so it is with dentistry. Many is tremendously adaptive. Conditions have a way of creeping up on us, and we adjust to them. For example, when teeth shift and the bite is off, we shift our jaw to adapt to the new bite. Tension, headaches, tooth loosening develop and we adjust to it. When cavities enlarge undetected, pain often doesn't come until the terminal stage. We seldom realize that these things are happening! How few people are bothered by (their own) bad breath!

Good, preventative dentistry is never expensive; neglect always is. In many ways.

Lutz selected to attend Boys State

Glades Central High School junior Kenny Lutz has been chosen by the American Legion Post #20 to attend this year's Boys State. Held on the Florida State campus in Tallahassee during June, Boys State includes youth from the entire state, and Kenny is honored to represent the Glades area. The purpose of Boys State is to examine the duties, privileges, rights, and responsibilities of American citizenship.

As Boys State is a learning experience in practical democracy, Kenny will study political thinking and exercise within the election process for the offices of a mythical 51st state. Various representatives of the state government will address assemblies as well as other inspiring leaders.

Kenny was selected on the criteria of leadership, courage, neatness, honor, loyalty, and service. He said that he was surprised but pleased upon his selection and expects to have an informative but fun experience. The commander of Post #20 is Mr. Fred Youchok. Prince Theatre to host "Zion"

Zion will be presented by at the Prince Theatre in Pahokee. Author Betty Trader uses Baptist hymns to structure this largely historical account of Marietta, Georgia's first black congregation from 1836 to 1866, from slavery to the aftermath of war.

From the first admission of Dicy Dobbs to the black gallery of First Baptist Church to Ephraim Rucker's founding of a separate black church, Zion Baptist.

Trader charts the progress of a group of survivors moving beyond the false dialectic of owners and slaves to the more genuine split between black and white co-religionists.

(A must see, The Prince Theatre in Pahokee will put on the production Friday, May 29th at 8 p.m. Tickets are available at City Hall in Pahokee. For more information call 924-5534. It is hoped that citizens of Pahokee will fill up the theatre as city leaders feel this could help get something going within the theatre such as regular productions perhaps on a weekly basis. Tickets are also available at the door.

In Memorium Pahokee High School

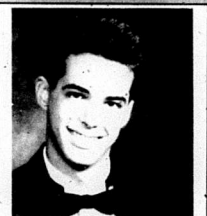

A friend we lost along the way,
Had to leave, he could not stay.
Called home so young to do his part,
Shall always remain in everyone's heart.
We remember him in a special way,
On this our graduation day.
